ENDS HIS TROUBLES.

Lemuel Coomer, Who Lived in the Fairplay Country, Suicided Sunday Night.

SEVERAL PERSONS WITNESSED THE DEED.

The suicide of Lemuel Coomer reached here early Monday morning. The following are the particulars, as gathered from a gentleman who lives in the neighborhood. Several days ago Coomer and his wife, who is a daughter of Col. Ashbury Tabor, of Albany, Ky., quarreled, and it is said that the wife received a whipping. She left, going to the home of her brother, Ole Tabor, where she told her troubles and where she was cared for by her brother. Sunday night Coomer went to his brother-in-law's residence, called his wife out, and intreated her to return home with him, saying that he was sorry for his action and promising to do better in the future. His wife declined to go with him and turned to enter the house. Just as she did so the husband drew his pistol and shot his brains out. Besides the wife four or five children are left. The dead man was about forty years old. If Coomer had not killed himself it is more than likely that a reconciliation would have been brought about, as it is said that Mrs. Coomer took his death very hard.

The internet took place in the neighborhood Monday afternoon.

A Success.

About three years ago Mr. T. G. Ranser took charge of the Columbia Steam Laundry, with no experience, but little money and no demonstrated patronage caused by previous failures of others who tried to build the business. He has stuck to the business, acquired the knowledge and equipments necessary and one by one built up a patronage. That the people of this part of the State should be liberal in their support to this Laundry can not be questioned for its work is done in first-class order and at much less price than others. Besides getting good work, reasonable prices a man who makes the struggle and undergoes the hardships that Mr. Ranser has, needs the encouragement of a solid patronage from the section that he is endeavoring to build. Patrons are increasing but it ought to be more than double its present worth. Send in your line and be convinced.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, Death is appointed unto all to die and go forth into the great unknown, and whereas, our sister, Mrs. Maud Damon has yielded to the inevitable and has gone forth to know the realities of eternity.

Therefore, Be it Resolved that since she has yielded herself unreservedly to the Lord Jesus Christ as her Redeemer, her Priest and her King, and since she became more and more like the Christ, being perfected through suffering, and since she met death with the Christian's faith and victory.

Be it Resolved, That we, as a society, sorrow not as those who have no hope, but rejoice because our sister's suffering is over, and she is with the Lord.

Be it further Resolved, That we extend our heartiest sympathies to the bereaved husband, little daughter, and other dear relatives, and commend them to the God and Savior she loved and served, and also commend her life and death to them as worthy of example to be followed and attained.

We commend that these resolutions be published in The Adair County News and a copy be given her husband and little daughter.

Family washings and laundry work is different. If you want laundry done, include it in family washings—there is a difference in the price as well as the work. T. G. Ranser.

It is estimated that 365,940 acres are planted in tobacco in Kentucky this year as against 365,446 acres in 1909 an increase of 30,000 acres. The reports from some counties are very discouraging while other counties report that plants were never set out under more favorable conditions and that they were strong and have grown well and some record yields. About half the acreage is white Burley.

R. H. Price and Selden Bennett purchased the heirs of the late S. R. Conover, last Thursday night, upon which said Conover died several years ago, for $1,050. It contains about 120 acres and is located two miles from Columbia.

KILLING AT JAMESTOWN

Jo Zach Hays, of Color, Shoots and Kills Theodore Burress, a Colored Barber.

HAYS CLAIMS HE MADE A MISTAKE.

A pistol shot rang out at the home of Jo Zach Hays, a colored silversmith of Jamestown, last Tuesday night and Theodore Burress, a colored barber, whose shop was at the Holt Hotel, fell mortally wounded, dying in a few hours. There are conflicting statements as to what led to the killing. Hays claiming it was an accident, that he was hunting for a white man named Jo Gaskin, who had threatened to kill him and his wife, and when he fired he thought Burress was the man he was on watch to see. Gaskin says that he never had trouble at any time with either Hays or his family and that Jo's statement is untrue. The reason given for Burress entering Hays' premises, he was shot in the yard, it is said he left his horse in Joe's barn, and was there to attend him. The wounded man lies in Hays' house, and it is reported here that before dying he exhorted his slayer from all blame and asked that he be not prosecuted. It is further said that a girl is lying at Hays' home to whom Burress was engaged, and that Hays did not want them to marry. This is given as has been told to us, and it may not be exactly correct, but all the facts will be brought out at the examining trial.

Since writing the above we learn that Hays was given an examining trial and held in the sum of one thousand dollars, to await the action of the grand jury.

The Columbia Steam Laundry wants your work. It is prepared to give as good service as you can get any where. Send in and be convinced. 37-3t

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, Death has entered our circle and claimed one of our most faithful and devoted members, Mrs. Laura Allen, and whereas she lived a sweet, humble life, showing forth the spirit of our Lord and Master and whereas she feared no evil when she passed through the valley of the shadow of death but went forth into the presence of her God, rejoicing in the Christian life and longing to be in His presence. Therefore,

Be it Resolved, That our society has sustained a loss in the death of sister Allen and yet Heaven seems still more dear because she is there.

Also, Be it Resolved, That we grieve not, but go on with thanksgiving because she was spared to us so long and because our Blessed Redeemer has made ready for her a room in the House of God, and she is now rejoicing in the realities of the home of the Christian's soul.

Be it further Resolved, That we follow her life of faithfulness and extend our sincere sympathies to her daughters and commend them to the life of their sainted mother as worthy of imitation and trust that the sweet memories of her may help them to be true to God, and help them find comfort in this hour of sorrow, so that they may after awhile meet her in the city of our God.

We commend also that a copy of these resolutions be published in the Adair County News, also a copy to the sisters.

Bishop T. C. Carter of the United Brethren Church, delivered a very interesting lecture at the Methodist Church last Wednesday evening. His lecture was upon the South and the part her prominent men played in the formation of this government, and the distinction many of them gained upon fields of battle and in many engagements. He recited history to back him in his statements, showing that Southern men were entitled to more credit for the peaceful and prosperous condition of this country than men who lived in the north, east and west. The Bishop was not physically able to deliver his lecture, speaking slowly, but those who failed to hear him, missed a most entertaining recitation of historical events. He was introduced to the audience by Gov. J. R. Hindman who spoke of the Bishop's powers in entertaining.

The wife of Mr. Selden Cravens, who lives in the Craycraft country, died Monday last week. She was about sixty-five years old and a victim of consumption.

Strayed, four sheep from my premises. They have been seen at Glenville. Mike Grant.

Birthday Dinner.

Last Wednesday was the forty-ninth anniversary of Rev. J. R. Crawford, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in this place. Mrs. Crawford concluded that the event should be duly celebrated, and she prepared a most sumptuous dinner, to which she invited all the officers of the Church, to-wit: Judge H. C. Baker, Capt. W. W. Bradshaw, Dr. W. R. Griesom, Messrs. John N. Murrell, E. W. Reed, W. P. Summers, W. D. Fraser, T. A. Murrell, J. W. Flowers, R. K. Young, J. O. Russell. All answered to the invitation except Mr. Russell, who was called to Cincinnati. The officers concluded a day or two before the appointed hour, that it would be proper to remember the pastor in a substantial way and accordingly they made up a purse of forty-nine dollars which was presented in a few chosen words by Judge T. A. Murrell. Mr. Crawford happily responding. Those who were present speak of the dinner in most glowing terms and the occasion as a very delightful gathering.

For Sale.

One good brood mare and colt. Apply to A. J. Gowen, Gradyville, Ky.

Mr. C. L. Pyle, of Hustonville is in this office Monday and in conversation we obtained the following information which should be used by those who grow tobacco. While it is now too late for the season, yet when the next crop is ready to plant it should be remembered. It is this: He was asked if tobacco was freighting in his section, and he answered that it was not where it had been planted right, but where the old method prevailed in planting, freighting was common. He stated that the long root should be pinched off before setting and where so treated it would not freight. This is not hard to do and the experience of those who have tried it demonstrates its worth. Remember to pinch off the long center root when you plant next year.

Mr. Buck Willis submitted to a very serious operation last Monday afternoon. For several years he has been afflicted with hydrocele and an operation could no longer be deferred. It was performed by Dr. E. A. Waggoner, assisted by Dr. J. H. Grady and Dr. Garlin Grissom. It is hoped that the patient will soon recover.

Mr. Paul Acree, who lives on the Russell Springs road, ten miles from Columbia, and Miss Nannie Montgomery, a daughter of Mr. Nathan Montgomery, a grand daughter of Mr. T. W. Montgomery, were recently married in Jeffersonville, Ind. They returned to this country a week or two ago.

Mr. J. C. Sims, the well-known tombstone man, has removed his machinery from Campbellville to Lebanon, where his main office is located. He will also have a branch shop at Campbellville. Mr. Sims has delivered a great deal of work to people of Adair county, giving perfect satisfaction. He continues to solicit the work from this section of the State. 34-4t

We are informed that Mr. Ed Gentry and Miss Tobie Montgomery, daughter of Mr. T. W. Montgomery, eloped to Burlington, Tenn., last week and were married. They were at Russell Springs last Saturday on their return home.

The family washings at the Columbia Steam Laundry is under my supervision and I see that it is done right. The price for such work is 7 cents per pound, but must include heavy as well as light work. We cannot do all light work at this price. Also washings must be 5 pounds or over. 37-3t Mrs. T. G. Ranser.

Mr. Bruce Callison is adding valuable improvements to his residence at Cane Valley in the way of verandas, etc. We are also informed that several residences will be built in that town before the ending of the fall months.

Eld. W. B. Taylor, of Lagrange, a native of this county, a very prominent minister in the Christian Church, preached an able sermon here Monday night. For the next ten days he will be with Eld. Williams in a meeting at Pleasant Hill.

Mr. Frank Dehoney was in Columbia Monday and being asked for the news in his locality, said: "Nothing but water and destruction in the Milltown country. The high waters have done so much damage that only a half crop of corn will be raised."

Dr. W. F. Cartwright has contracted with Sandusky & Co., for a five-room cottage. It will be built near the residence of Mr. W. H. Wilson and the work will commence in about two weeks.

The Fox Ridge Fair will be held on Wednesday, the 27th of this month.

IT LEAKED OUT.

Mr. L. B. Cain and Miss Alice Murrell Married Last Sunday Night.

A SECRET THAT FAILED TO KEEP.

Mr. L. B. Cain, a well-known stock dealer of this county, and Miss Alice Murrell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Murrell, who live three miles from Columbia, were married in this town last Sunday night. It was the intention of the contracting parties to withhold the announcement for several days, but a little bird came round and the information was gathered. The ceremony was performed by Rev. B. M. Currie. Soon after the rites were solemnized the couple drove to the home of the bride's parents. Mr. Cain is an industrious and quite a prosperous young man who has many friends, and the bride is one of Adair county's best young women. It is a very difficult matter to keep a marriage a secret, though the minister's mouth be closed and the record laid away.

This couple have bright prospects before them and we trust that happiness may attend them through life.

Medical Society Meeting.

Remember that the 20th annual session of the Russell Springs District Medical Society will be held at Russell Springs, Ky., on Saturday, the 1st of August, 1910. There will be an elaborate program offered on laws of health, Sanitation, preventive medicine, by Dr. U. L. Taylor, State Sanitary Inspector; Wm. Blair, member of Adair County Board of Health; L. D. Hammond, councilor 7th medical district of Kentucky; R. C. McChord, councilor of 6th medical district of Kentucky; Flanagan and others. It is hoped that every doctor, medical student, dentist, druggist, and more especially the ladies and gentlemen of every walk of life will be present at the meeting of one of the oldest District Medical Societies in Kentucky. J. B. Scholl.

People who want to speculate in lands can do just about as well at home as they could in Western States. Cast your eye over this county and note the changes in farm owners in the last twelve years, and note the advance in prices. Farms that sold for $2,000 a few years ago have changed hands several times and are now valued at $5,000, and there is a market for them.

Mat B. Pirquin, who many years ago was a painter in this town, died very suddenly at his late home, in Glasgow, last week. His wife had prepared breakfast and when she went to her room to notify her husband, found him dead. He was sixty-six years old, remarkably kindhearted and leaves many friends.

Fred Burbridge, a colored man who lives in Lebanon, was before Commissioner F. R. Winfrey last Friday. He was arrested by Deputy U. S. Marshall W. L. Cumberland county. He is charged with selling liquor in Lebanon in March, 1909. He was held over. Several Lebanon witnesses were here and testified.

Wanted—White Oak Logs, write us for prices. Will also buy standing timber and white and red oak lumber. Louisville Planning Mill & Hardwood 35 at Flooring Co., Louisville, Ky.

About twenty-five colored men of this vicinity have organized a lodge of United Brothers of Friendship. It is a benevolent order, and its teachings, if adhered to, make men better.

Columbia Lodge, No. 96, Free and Accepted Masons will meet in their hall next Friday evening at 7:45. There will be work and a full attendance is desired by the Master.

We have been informed that Charley Morris, who lives near Coburg, lost a valuable horse one day last week, killed by lightning.

The amphitheater is to be recovered and other necessary improvements made at the Fair grounds. Everything will be in readiness when the bell rings.

There are at this time, so we are informed, about thirty horses in Adair county that are in training for the Fair August 23, four days.

MILLIONS LOST.

Heavy Downpours Bring Devastation in Many Sections of Kentucky.

WHEAT, CORN AND TOBACCO SUFFER.

We take the following gloomy crop prospects from Sunday's Courier-Journal. The heavy rains have been general throughout the State:

Not since the season of 1875 has Kentucky been visited with such an excessive rainfall as this summer. The damage wrought by rains during the present month will run into the millions. The downpours have not been confined to one section, but have been general throughout the State. In some sections it has fallen every day during July.

In addition to the washing of cultivated fields and destruction of bridges and roads the damage to growing crops has been, in some instances, nearly a total loss. The wheat harvest has not only been delayed, but in many cases where the wheat has been shocked the grain has begun to sprout and will be totally unfit for threshing. It is estimated that over half the wheat crop has been lost in many localities.

In the tobacco districts the plants have been washed from the earth and those that had begun to grow are "freighting" from the excessive rains. Where farmers have been prevented from cultivating their crops on account of the wet weather the weeds have practically taken them.

Clonduburns in Nicholas and adjoining counties yesterday brought an estimated damage of hundreds of thousands of dollars. Many persons narrowly escaped drowning while their homes were damaged to such an extent as to make them practically uninhabitable. In Mason and Nicholas county steelbridges were washed from their moorings and destroyed.

In Henderson, Union and Webster counties the damage from the rain of yesterday, it is reported, will run over a million dollars. The growing crops were "freighted" and many barns that contained valuable appurtenances were washed away.

The rains of yesterday have caused Statewide devastation and untold losses. It is utterly impossible to estimate the damage, but reports indicate that if the rains do not soon cease, the prospects for growing crops in Kentucky will be very gloomy.

ADAIR CIRCUIT COURT

Notice.

Thos. B. Grant, Adm'r. & Defts.
Notice is hereby given that I will sit at my office in the town of Columbia, Ky., on Saturday (Sunday) excepted, from August 1st, 1910, until September 1st, 1910, to receive claims against the estate of W. D. Cave, deceased, in above styled case, and to hear proof of them, pursuant to an order of the Adair Circuit Court, in above styled case. 37-3t W. A. Coffey, M. C. C. C.

There is no blight like the blight of idleness. It is in the unworked garden that weeds grow. It is in the stagnant water that disease germs waken to horrid life. It is in the calm that marriage love least, and from the spent battle-fields pestilence, more dreaded foe than the red carnage of war. Emmu palls upon a brave heart as protracted peace falls on a true soldier. Emmu is like a long-winded amiable, but weary-dead friend who dropped in to see us and dribbles platitudes until every nerve stands out like porcupine quills and we long for the advent of an enemy. Emmu is like being forced to eat meat without salt, or to drink tepid water. Labor, on the contrary, if it is remunerated labor, is a friend with grit and endurance in his makeup. It comes to us as a wind that stirs the forest, and sets all our faculties striding, as the wind ruffles the treetops. It salutes us our meat and spices our drink.

Sanford, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Strain, accidentally exploded the hull of a twenty-two cartridge last Thursday morning, a piece of the hull striking him on the leg, the wound bleeding freely. He is only three years old but he had got hold of a box containing nails and some small trifle, and he was striking with a hammer first, then another when the hull exploded. The accident greatly excited the child and his parents, but they were quickly relieved upon learning that the little fellow was only slightly hurt.

Interest in the coming Fair is growing and a very large crowd of people is expected in Columbia. Keep the date before you, August 23, four days.

Born, to the wife of Rev. R. L. Tally, the 13th inst., a daughter.

Goes to Jail.

Saturday night Mr. A. N. Wells, formerly of Junction City, but who lately had his home in this city, was placed in the Boyle county jail for refusing to pay a judgment obtained against him in the last term of the Boyle circuit court by Mr. C. P. Minor for libel. Mr. Wells is preparing to take the insolvent debtors' oath and will have to be incarcerated behind the iron bars for ten days. At the expiration of this period he will go before the county judge and take the insolvent debtors' oath and be relieved from the judgment obtained against him.

Mr. Wells was former manager and agent of the Farmers' Home Insurance company of Junction City, a local and co-operative fire insurance company. The basis of the suit, in which the judgment was obtained was a libelous letter written by Mr. Wells relative to Mr. Minor, who is well-known throughout the county among his numerous friends as Uncle Boss—Danville Advocate.

Mr. Wells is fairly well-known in Adair county, having been a regular visitor to Columbia while he was President of the Farmers Home Insurance Company.

THE ADAIR COUNTY NEWS.

Published Every Wednesday

BY THE

Adair County News Company.

(INCORPORATED.)

CHAS. S. HARRIS EDITOR.

Democratic newspaper devoted to the interest of the City of Columbia and the people of Adair and adjacent counties.

Entered at the Columbia Post-office as second class mail matter.

WED. JULY, 20, 1910.

It is believed that August Hopke, the defaulting cashier of the Fidelity Trust Co., Louisville, will confess his guilt. Experts are not through with the investigation, but it is believed the shortage will reach nearly a million dollars.

Col. Roosevelt has announced the itineraries of the speaking tours he is to make late this summer and fall. The Western trip will begin August 25 and will end September 11. The Southern trip will extend from October 6 to October 11. No further invitations will be considered.

We have not seen a published report of the proceedings of the meeting of the Republican committee of this Congressional district which met at Corbin last Saturday, adjourned, and held its meeting at Williamsburg. We understand that the committee fixed the qualification of a voter and also named the amount each candidate for Congress would have to put up for the primary to be held September 15.

The managers of the Kentucky Advocate, Danville, are enterprising men, and have ceased to publish a tri-weekly and instead are giving its readers a daily. The new venture started Monday of last week and each issue up to this date has been full of interesting happenings. The Advocate has arranged for press service and is in a position to get news as quickly as the metropolitan papers. It is backed by ability and energy and it should succeed.

Mr. Jas. Garnett, who attended the meeting of the State Bar Association, Middlesboro, last week, reports that it was a most interesting and pleasant gathering of the profession, all section of the Commonwealth being represented. Mr. C. W. Metcalf was master of ceremonies, and several very eloquent addresses were delivered. The banquet was a magnificent affair and the hospitality of the "Queen City" all that the visiting attorneys could have possibly expected. These meetings are held for mutual benefit, to exchange ideas, and to have a general good time.

Herbert Atherton, Mayor of Newark, O., resigned his office last Thursday in response to the pressure of friends and his party. The reason given was that it was hoped thereby to save the city the disgrace of an investigation following the lynching of Carl M. Etherington last week. Eight new arrests were made by direction of J. M. Ankele, who is now Mayor. Carl Etherington was a Washington county Kentucky boy and he was put to death without a just cause. The young man's parents will likely bring suit for heavy damages.

It is a well known fact that the Republican party, in the National Congress, is divided and that an insurgent Republican is, in reality, contending for the same legislation, for the same principles for which the Democrats have been contending for many years. This being true they are Democrats but refuse to get under the banner of Democracy but choose the name of Progressive Republicans. Sooner or later formalities and names will not be so charming and the real genuine revisionist will be allied with the party that believes in Tariff for Revenue only. The injustice done the common citizens of this county and the small and varied interests as well by a high tax is now so plain that even many of the stand-pat Republicans have lost their zeal for protection. Protection that fails to protect the great bulk of people is a burden, not a blessing, an injustice. To linger longer with a party that makes you pay all your surplus to gigantic corporations through high prices maintained by a federal tax is a mistake and a few fleet-years will prove it.

The excessive and continued rains for the last few weeks have caused many to fear the destruction of wheat, oats and grass, while some of our farmer friends are fearing a severe drouth will follow. True, we have had an unusual amount of rain and some damage to grain and grass has resulted, but not to the extent of an alarming condition. That the sun will shine and showers come we have not a doubt and the farmer who industriously uses his time need not fear the harvest. There is a rainy day for all—a cloudy day that threatens, but sunshine follows and despondency and fears are brushed aside by hope and cheer. This part of the country has never been ruined by water nor devastated by hot winds and drouth. Keep doing your duty and all will be well with you.

Columbus Wagons

If you want a good, light running farm wagon, let us sell you a Columbus.

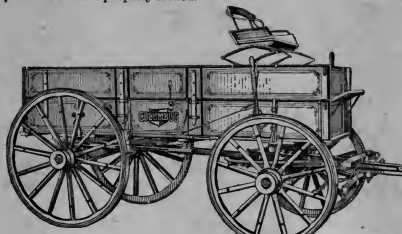

We have one here that we will gladly show you.

The light running feature of the Columbus is one of its excellent points.

You know that horseflesh costs money.

A Columbus wagon is so light running that this feature is favorably commented upon everywhere.

The wheels, the gears, and boxes are made of good material and properly ironed.

This excellent construction enables them to withstand the severe usage encountered on the farm.

Columbus wagons are so well built, in fact, that after years of service a farmer still has good words for his Columbus wagon.

Call on us at once.

If you are not in need of a wagon at present, it will pay you to investigate the Columbus and be ready when the time comes.

PRISONER WOUNDED BY NIGHT OFFICER.

Albert Taylor, Suspected of Burglary Shot Through the Neck.

About 1:30 o'clock Wednesday morning the police department was notified that the clothing store of Clark & Stokes on North Bickford avenue had been entered by burglars. Night Policeman Dehoney was the only officer at the police station at that hour, and he went upstairs and woke up Al Stoneman and started out alone into "Darkest Africa" in search of the miscreants.

He very quickly secured information that a white man and a negro were attempting to dispose of a number of suits of cloths in a negro pool hall on North Admire avenue. He entered the pool hall, laid his hand on the shoulder of the white man and commanded him to accompany him to the station. The man drew back a billiard cue as if to strike, and as he did so the cue struck a gun which the officer held in his hand. The force of the blow discharged the gun, and a 45 ball tore its way clear through the prisoner's neck, entering the right side and coming out at the left. Dehoney caught him as he fell, and later brought him up to the police station, where the wound was treated by Dr. Clark. The man gave his name as Albert Taylor, and his mother, a Mrs. Jones, was reached by telephone at her home in Lawton and arrived here last night. Taylor was taken to the county jail yesterday, and except for the danger of blood poisoning setting in, he has a fair chance of recovery.

The negro who is alleged to have been an accomplice of Taylor in the burglary of the clothing store was in the pool hall when Dehoney entered, but he made a quick getaway and has not yet been apprehended. Chief of Police McCartney is hot on his trail, however, and it is probable that he will be landed behind the bars before sunset this evening.

The burglars gained entrance to the Clark & Stokes store by prying open a back window with a crow bar or some other instrument. The proprietors of the store were unable to state yesterday just what amount of goods had been taken, but were of the opinion that a half dozen or more suits of cloths and several suit cases were missing.

The officers are of the opinion that Taylor is a much-wanted man, and is a member of a band of burglars that have been robbing stores in a number of Oklahoma towns and disposing of their booty in pawn shops and second hand stores. Officer Dehoney is to be commended for his daring invasion of the bad lands, single handed, in the early hours of the morning, in pursuit of two desperate criminals, one of whom is reported to have been carrying a big gun on his hip.—Daily American, El Reno, Oklahoma.

The Dohoney mentioned in the above article is Mr. Forest Dohoney, son of Mrs. Precilla Dohoney, of Columbia.

A silo enables the farmer to grow more feed from the farm. By its use the feeding capacity of the farm can be doubled.

A silo enables the farmer to store a greater amount of feed in less space than he can otherwise do. It requires double the amount of space to store the same amount of dry nutrients and roughage.

A silo enables the farmer to store away his feed with less loss of valuable nutrients that it can be done in any other way. Feed cured in the open air suffers loss of about 25 per cent. while silage loses not more than 10 per cent.

A well built silo is a permanent improvement to any farm. It is besides a pretty sure indication that the owner is making good. It is a feature which should be taken into account in estimating the credit rating of any farmer, the kind of a silo which he has.—Ex.

Hogs on Alfalfa.

An old and extensive swine grower of Kansas says: "Twenty-five years of pasturing hogs of all ages on alfalfa has proven conclusively to me that a fourth to a half grain ration while they are on such pasture will produce greater growth per day than when in dry lots on full feeds of corn. Hogs will maintain a reasonable growth, but not fatten much, on alfalfa pasture alone. I believe it profitable to feed them some grain while running on green alfalfa. If it is desired to full-feed hogs, they will make a rapid fattening growth from increasing the grain ration while on pasture, and with the full grain ration the meat will be nearly as firm as that of hogs kept in a dry lot where grain alone has been fed. I find no distinction on the market between alfalfa-fed swine and those purely grain-fed, and they sell price and price alike. The general health of the alfalfa fed hogs is equal to that of those maintained on any feed, and they are prolific."

appeared in all sorts of lands and conditions. They attacked almost every useful plant and also plantain, ragweed and even oak sprouts but the limit was reached when they invaded old cement bags.

Casner, Ill.

I will endeavor to write a few lines to the News, thinking they would be appreciated by my friends in old Kentucky.

I am located on a farm one mile East of Casner and on the C. H. & D. R. R., nine miles East of Decatur, the county seat of Mason county.

This is a fine farming country for oats, wheat, corn, timothy and clover. We have Sunday School at Casner every Sunday, conducted by good men who have faith in Christ and they love to tell of his good works.

I would like to know what has become of the writer of Kerns, Ky. I don't see a letter from that place in the News any more.

I meet lots of Kentuckians out here in Illinois. I can tell a corn cracker in a very short time after I meet him.

I will close for this time and if this escapes the waste basket I will write again.

Yours,
Charlie Burton.

Advantages of a Silo.

The silo is now the recognized granary of the dairy farm. It is the great factor which the practical dairyman depends upon to achieve economical and profitable results. It is a thing which the first expense should not prevent any man from owning and using.

Deleterious results seldom or never follow the feeding of silage. If such a thing happens it is because of overfeeding, or the use of decayed and rotten feed, a thing not to be recommended in silage any more than in other feeds.

Silage is recognized as the factor of greatest economic value in the feeding of milch cows. Where dairy farming is a specialty it is ubiquitous. Silage is equally valuable as a feed for young cattle and has a peculiar advantage when fed to cattle being fitted for market.

Woman's Beauty

Some women retain their beauty to an advanced age. But women, who regularly endure pain, age rapidly, for suffering leaves its lasting marks on them.

Nearly all women suffer more or less with some form of female trouble. It should not be neglected. Avoid the pain—treat yourself at home by taking Cardui, as thousands of other women have done. Begin at once and give Cardui a fair trial.

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. Katie Burlison, Goreville, Ill., tried Cardui and writes: "I suffered with female troubles, and was so sick I could not stand on my feet. Finally I began to take Cardui, and soon began to mend. Now I am able to do all my housework and am in much better health than I was before." Try it.

We think she had better put on her spectacles and take another look. We really believe that she could judge him for a higher than constable.

Obituary.

On the evening of June 25th, 1910, at eleven o'clock, Mr. John R. Royce peacefully closed his eyes in death.

He was born July 4th, 1832, and lived in the Harrodsfork country near Dirigo, Ky. He was 77 years, 11 months and 21 days old. Uncle John was a man whom every one liked who knew him and was a high toned christian gentleman, united with the M.E. church at Breeding about 20 years ago.

He was married to Miss Fannie Breeding about 39 years ago, unto this union were born seven children, all of whom are living but one who died in infancy.

Uncle John had been in bad health for some time but he bore his afflictions with christian fortitude. All was done that loving hands could do to keep him with us longer, but God saw fit to take him home out of his suffering. He was a kind and loving husband, a good and loving father. He leaves a wife and six children and a number of friends to mourn their loss. But will say to you weep not as one that has no hope, for he is with little Luther and Jesus, and what must it be to be there? It is all glory, no sickness and no dying can enter there.

When Christ brings his cross he brings his presence, and where he is none are desolate, as he knows his own he knows how to comfort them. I know too well that words cannot comfort, whether time can do so, remains yet to be seen. Will say to those dear children that are not ready for the meeting in the sky, to get ready to meet your dear father where parting will be no more.

The funeral services were held at his home conducted by Rev. G. B. Breeding, after which the Masons took charge of the body and was layed to rest in the family burying ground near his home, where a large number of relatives and friends were present to witness the last tribute of respect to our dear uncle.

A loving niece,
E. E. P.

A Good Ration for Dairy Cows.

A dairyman who has studied the question of profitable rations says the greatest success he has ever had in his dairy was when he fed a ration about as follows: Once a day good alfalfa, all to be eaten up clean, and this in the morning. In the afternoon, cut corn fodder, with the ears left in, all that will be eaten up clean. This latter would be cut green, just before the first frost, shocked in medium-sized shocks in the field and left there till wanted. It would then be hauled to a cutting machine and cut as needed in about three-quarter inch lengths, and when fed properly every bit of stalk, cob and all will be eaten. Then with this was fed about 20 to 30 pounds of mangel-wurzels, put through a root cutter, and, to the heaviest milkers from four to eight pounds of wheat bran. Now, note these feeds, Alfalfa, a cheap source of protein or flesh forming elements; the corn fodder, carrying a good quantity of fairly well matured ears, a cheap source of carbohydrates, or starch and sugar; and the mangel-wurzel, a cheap succulent feed that though not rich in nutrients, is a wonderful aid to the perfect digestion of the other feeds. These three feeds are the cheapest for the dairy cow that can be produced.

Although one is not in a corn growing State, a little experience is necessary in order to produce from the same varieties a very high class fodder corn at least, and mangel-wurzels can be made to yield thirty tons to the acre easily and sixty tons is father below a maximum crop—Ex.

Mrs. J. D. Walker spent a day or so in Columbia the first of the week.

Born, to the wife of Henry Keen, on the 7th a son. Mother and child doing well.

J. A. Diddle and son, were at Greensburg last Monday on business.

The work on the Bank building will begin in a few days.

W. B. Hill wants a first class harness horse about 8 or 10 years of age.

The threshing machines have started. The wheat is a little to dam to thresh well.

H. Henderson has several tobacco houses to build in this section during the fall months.

Mr. J. W. Walker of Columbia was here the first of the week.

Miss Mollie Flowers after spending a few days in Columbia and Lebanon returned home the first of the week.

Quite a number of our citizens attended quarterly court at Columbia last Monday.

W. B. Moore and wife, visited relatives at Portland a day or so the first of the week.

Rev. John Roach of East Fork, was shaking hands with his many friends in our town last Monday.

Dr. W. T. Grissom and wife of Bliss, spent several days in our town the first of the week visiting their relatives. We were all glad to see the Doctor and to know that he is improving, and trust that it will only be a short time until he will be well again.

Mrs. Ella Y. Robertson, who has been in delicate health for several months is spending a few weeks at Sulphur Well at this time. Her father, Mr. Yates, informed us that she was getting along nicely and was well pleased with the well and especially the accommodations. Mrs. C. M. Hindman will join her in a few days and will spend a few weeks enjoying the good water and hospitality of that noted place. It is hoped by their many friends that when they return they can say that their health has been improved.

Dr. S. Simmons who was with us last year and left to attend the lectures, has returned and will locate with us permanently. We are certainly glad to have the young Doctor with us for we certainly need his services as there is more to do than any one physician can do here. We understand that Drs. Nell and Simmons have formed a partnership in the practice.

Mr. Will Todd of Columbia community, who lived in this community for a year or so and sold his farm last year to Mr. Clark, was in our midst last Wednesday seeing after some corn that he had sold. Mr. Todd informed us after using all the corn that he needed through the winter and up to the present time, keeping enough to run him until corn is made again he had sold two hundred dollars worth of corn and had received the cash for same. Mr. Todd made this on a very small farm and had no help. Can you see any good reason for our boys leaving old Kentucky and especially Adair county hunting good farming land. If we will only work our own soil in old Adair there is no trouble about her production and there we have a home market for every bushel of corn, wheat and oats she produces and can get the cash for it. Let us till our own soil.

Mr. W. L. Grady the noted Peacock Horse man of Adair and adjoining counties, sold last week his house and lot in our city with about fifty acres of land to Mr. Etna Keen for the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars. Mr. Grady informed us that he has something like 36 acres of land left and that he had concluded to build on higher quarters. Mr. Grady will build at once or buy property in our town. As Mr. Grady had decided to sell his residence we are very glad that he has turned it over to Mr. Keen and his estimable wife, as they are first class people and we are glad to have them with us. This deal doubtless will have a tendency to improve our town as Mr. Grady is a progressive man, will erect a new and handsome dwelling as well as a large and commodious barn.

We have been having plenty of rain. It has rained every day in this month up to the 13 at this writing. The ground won't do to work for several days and the farmers have begun to look very sad. They are wanting to plow and hoe their tobacco, and they have begun to murmur again, and say there won't be anything made. Seems like the Lord can't please us at all. A few weeks ago when the good Lord was sending the bright sunshine down on the earth to make the little plants grow, just what we had been wishing for, but we soon got weary with that and began to wish for rain. So the good Lord saw fit to shut up the bright sunshine. We were well pleased at first, but as it continued to rain, we are like the children of Israel, we have commenced to murmur and say there won't be anything made; the tobacco will all ruin, the wheat will all rot, and we are saying: I don't know what I am to do. We ought not to grumble at the blessed Savior's work for His Will must be done, not ours. He commands us more strictly to work for the soul than the body. Maybe we have been neglecting the soul and the good Lord is sending these wet spells to give us warning that we must be more interested about the life hereafter than this present life. Do we work as hard for the soul as we do the body? It seems to me that we all would be bound to answer, no. We will arise early in the morning when the ground will do to work and hasten to the field, work hard until noon, come in and eat our dinner, don't take time to pick up the Blessed Bible and read a few verses to keep in memory what the Lord has done for us, but we must rush back to our work and work 'till the briny sweat will run down over our faces and in our eyes till we can hardly see our way. Return home at night worn out with the heat and toil of the day and too tired to take the Holy Bible and read a chapter and thank God for health and a sweet days work and to watch over us while we rest. So we are neglecting the soul that never dies for the body that must die. When Sunday comes we are slow to rise and go to church, Sabbath school or to minister to the want of some friend who is in need. I think all will agree with me that this is nearly always the case. So let us be more patience, it is all for our good and God will Bless us all.

AUSPICIOUS OPENING FOR AUTOMATIC LINE

TELEPOST TELEGRAPH SYSTEM INAUGURATES SERVICE TO LOUISVILLE.

Messages Exchanged Between Governors, Mayors and Other Officials of Operating States and Cities—Civic Organizations Join In.

Louisville, Ky.—Marked by the exchange of greetings between prominent state and city officials and the heads of representative civic bodies, the telepost system of automatic telegraphy was formally opened this week between Louisville and Indianapolis.

The cordiality of the welcome extended to this newest marvel in the evolution of telegraphy, with its 2,000 words a minute service, recalled to many of the older residents of the city the feeling of elation which attended the introduction of the Morse system to Louisville 52 years ago. Among those who attended the ceremonies at the headquarters of the automatic system at No. 338 West Main street were two old men who were present when the first telegraph message was flashed from Louisville by the hand-operated system of Professor Morse. As they saw one automatic message after another rolled off the recording machines on tapes, at lightning speed, the dramatic spectacle visibly affected them. Marvelous as was the original feat, with its sending capacity of 25 words a minute, the speed of this ingenious device for transmitting intelligence between distant points in spite of them, with its amazing feeling.

At the same time that the Telepost messages were being dispatched and received, the Independent Telephone Co. was using the same wire for conversation between subscribers. The ability of the automatic system to use a telephone wire simultaneously with the telephone company while persons are talking over it, without one conflicting with the other, gives it an important economic advantage over its rivals, and is one of the novel features of this system which in time will enable it to establish direct telegraph connection with the most remote sections of the country with comparatively little cost.

Aside from the enormous speed of the Telepost, what most impressed those present was the fact that all its messages are transmitted backwards. This insures the inviolability of its wires at all times while messages are in transit.

Present in the office of the automatic company were members of the city council and other local officials of Louisville and a number of prominent business men, including members of the Louisville Commercial club.

The first message sent over the wire was one from the newspapers of Louisville to the editors of newspapers in Indianapolis, Terre Haute, Chicago, Springfield, Ill., St. Louis and Sedalia, Mo., and other cities in which the system has been commercially operating for the last year and a half. The newspapers of the country will be one of the largest beneficiaries by this system, which will give them a much more extended service for the same money their telegraph news now costs them, or the same service for a fraction of the money they now pay for the service of the hand operated system. Following the greeting from the editors were messages from state officials to state officials of Indiana and Missouri and from the mayor of Louisville to the mayors in all of the operating cities. Then came messages between representative business men and the commercial organizations of Louisville to similar organizations in cities reached by Telepost, felicitating them upon the establishment of this new bond of fellowship between them.

The Telepost is the system by means of which Professor Rornin Hitchcock, the inventor of the department of science and industries of the Smithsonian Institute, testifying recently before a special committee of the New York legislature, said Peary's 8,000-word story of the discovery of the north pole could have been sent from Rattle Harbor to the New York Times in ten minutes had it been in operation at that time as far north. It took 20 skilled operators three days to send it by hand. Automatic messages are prepared on a perforating machine. These machines have a regulation typewriter keyboard, but instead of printing the message in Roman letters the keys punch a series of circular perforations in a tape. When these are subjected to electrical contact in the Telepost sending apparatus they automatically create the dots and dashes flashed over the wire to the receiving end. The pulling of a lever sends a message on its way. On the receiving end the message is automatically recorded in dots and dashes on a chemically prepared tape.

Like Uncle Sam's postage, Telepost rates are the same to all sections of the country making a special of that form of telegram.

The first is a 50-word letter sent over the wire at any hour of the day or night for 25 cents, with the same celerity as an ordinary telegram and delivered in five minutes. The second is a 10-word message, sent over the wire in the regular way, for 10 cents, inscribed on a postal card at the receiving end and delivered by mail. The Telepost—100 words for 25 cents—is intended largely for large business houses. When the message reaches the receiving end the recording tape is placed in a carrier, without any employ of the company, and hurried to the person to whom it is intended for transmission.
